

Educators Festival

Your community, your village
We hope you can join us

Invitation to Educators

The ECW Educators Festival offers Educators an array of authentic and meaningful hands on learning experiences that are fun, innovative and informative. In a tranquil, stress free environment this event provides you with the space to hang out with fellow ECEC villagers, unwind, relax and just Be. Connect with friends and colleagues and wander through the festival at your own leisure, engage in what interests you and have some fun. Take all the time you need to connect with the Exhibitors, participate in a few professional discussions or workshops. The ECW Educators Festival has been designed by Educators for Educators so come along check it out, connect, share and learn together.

The Professional Development sessions are planned hands on experiences designed as a provocation of learning, to introduce you to professional learning experiences that will inform your thinking and practice. Designed to support you to grow in knowledge and confidence, your experiences will inspire you to take your learning back to your own unique environments to share with colleagues and help to bring some fun back into what your work with children, reduce the stress and anxiety associated with your work and motivate you too...

Be the Best Educator you can be.

Australian Government

BUILDING OUR FUTURE

This project is funded under the Australian Government's Stronger Communities project

Educators Festival

March 6th, 2021

Your community, your village - We hope you can join us

Meet the villagers

Sponsored by

Bayside
Kindergarten and Childcare

Educators Festival Presenters

Jennifer Ribarovski

Jennifer Ribarovski is the Managing Director of JR Education Consulting Services and has over thirty years' experience in the education and care sector, including playing a key role in the implementation of the National Quality Framework for both the NSW Regulatory Authority and the Australian Children's Education and Care Quality Authority. Jennifer has trained authorised officers across Australia to assess against the National Quality Standard, and has developed curriculum and support documents to assist educators in their pedagogical journey. She has both taught and held leadership roles in preschools, early childhood centres, public schools and at universities and has a wealth of experience in translating educational theory into practice. Jennifer consults both nationally and internationally and is an experienced and highly sought-after presenter, having worked with over 10,000 teachers, educators and providers. She teaches at and provides consultancy services to Sydney University in both the undergraduate and postgraduate early childhood programs.

Jennifer holds a Bachelor of Early Childhood Education and a Master of Educational Leadership and Management with Distinction but is most proud of being a 'squishy grandma'; a title generously bestowed on her by a four-year-old child in an education and care centre.

Caroline Fewster

Before developing Bond University's Bachelor of Children's Services' programme, Caroline enjoyed a long and varied career working in a wide range of Children's Services' care and teaching situations starting as a pre-school teacher in ACT progressing to advisory and consultancy roles with regional and government education authorities. Her experience encompasses all aspects of early childhood learning from classroom teaching to managing services and from educating future teachers to consulting and developing professional development programmes. Whilst at Bond University, Caroline won the first academic award for her work in teaching students who now work in Children's Services world-wide. Since July 2012 Caroline exclusively devotes her time and experience working extensively with Children's Services throughout Australia developing customised professional development programmes for early childhood educators.

Stephen Gallen

Stephen Gallen has over 28 years experience in ECEC, with nearly 20 years as a contact educator/teacher.

He has taught across all service types including long day care, in home care, school age care, primary school and preschool. He has been supporting educators in their professional development since 1999.

He is especially interested in social justice in Early Childhood, and in the ways educators and children can use documentation to make meaning of the time they spend together.

Tara Hill

Tara Hill is the inspiring multi-tasking senior facilitator at Phoenix Support for Educators. Her experience in the profession started in 2003 as an educator and became a nominated supervisor in 2007. Tara's strength based coaching skills are exceptional and oversees The Online Teacher's and Educator's Symposium (TOTES) and delivers workshops around educational program and practice, documentation, learning environments and The Phoenix Cups Framework.

Tara's qualifications include an Advanced Diploma of Children's Services, and a Cert IV in Training and Assessment. Tara is currently studying a Bachelor of Social Sciences, majoring in Behavioural Studies.

Niki Buchan

Niki Buchan is an International Educational Consultant with 37 years' experience in the early childhood profession. She founded natural childcare settings in South Africa, helped to develop and was Head of Scotland's first Nature Kindergarten and now supports Bush schools in Australia. A popular author and keynote speaker recognised as an outspoken advocate for children's right to a high-quality childhood, she is considered a leading voice in promoting Nature-based practice. Niki believes all children have a right to regular access to nature and to learn in a way that is natural to them.

Educators Festival Presenters

The Outsiders - Angus Gorrie, Todd Ada, Lucy Ada

Angus Gorrie has a background in event organisation and management, and now a student of psychology, Angus has been working in the education sector for 11 years. Currently working as the Program Manager at Camp Hill Outside School Hours Care, Angus and his team have a passion for proactive childhood development incorporating risky play, nature play and playwork into the everyday program. In addition to OSHC, Angus has also organised and run many other events for school aged children including fishing and adventure camps.

Todd Ada is the Service Manager at Camp Hill Outside School Hours Care and has worked within the Childcare and School Age Care industry for over 10 years. Todd completed his Bachelors of Education Degree in Primary and Middle School in 2007 and has worked as a Manager of Camp Hill OSHC since 2009. He is also currently studying a certificate in Playwork and is passionate about children's development and growth and the important role that play has in developing the holistic child. As a Service Manager and Nominated Supervisor of the service, Todd understands the many complexities of the industry and the barriers that we all face but is excited with the way he sees the industry heading.

With 15 years of experience working with children and families and a family background in early years care and education, Lucy Ada has recently devoted her practice to Playwork and all things pertaining to it. Lucy has completed a playwork course, a degree in Fine Arts and a Cert III in child care, and has a passion for authentic education. Being the staffing manager at camp hill OSHC her focus is now on transferring that passion onto other staff and throughout the industry as a whole.

Alasdair Torrie

Alasdair Torrie has over 18 years' experience in a number of industries as a HR professional. The majority of his career has been spent in the public and private health care sector. Alasdair holds a Masters' degree in Business, specialising in Human Resources from a University in Edinburgh.

Like any Scotsman Alasdair likes to have a chat. However, from his training in corporate coaching through neurosciences he is astutely aware of the potential impact we can have in every conversation.

Alasdair is a sole trader and founder of his company 'The Scottish HeadHunter' and will take you on a journey that challenges your thinking.

Bec Lloyd

Bec Lloyd is Australia's leading communication specialist in early childhood and school education. Beginning her career as a newspaper journalist, she made her mark in leading education agencies in NSW and nationally as a founding executive for ACECQA.

As the author of The Flawsome Family Mealbook, and the UnYucky classes for children's cooks and educators, Bec combines her expertise in quality early childhood development with humour and compassion to help families and educators get even the fussiest eaters to participate in joyful shared meals.

At the Festival, Bec will present The Power of Table Talk and will be available all day to answer questions including how to map your service's positive mealtimes to all seven of the National Quality Standards in your QIP.

Madeline Avci

Madeline Avci is the Director of Jump Up For Kids and is a huge advocate of children balancing their time in front of screens with time playing outside where they ignite all of their senses. At work and through her own children, she sees the joy in children's eyes as they rise up to meet the challenges that nature provides.

Jump Up For Kids brings together over twenty years of Madeline's experience in Occupational Therapy, teaching and parenting, to offer children and their families a 'just right' experience in a world that often feels hurried and stressed. Jump Up For Kids supports children and families to develop independence and resilience in their daily lives.

Educators Festival Presenters

Rebecca Burch

Rebecca is a passionate advocate for nature play and its immense benefits to support holistic development and wellbeing. She is an educator who loves inspiring others; children, families and educators to play and learn with and in nature. Rebecca loves connecting with land and water and all the living things to learn about the world as a co-learner and collaborator with children. She has over 25 years experience teaching in education settings in rural areas, community based and has focused her work in Early Childhood services in nature based programs. Rebecca has strong values of sustainability and believes we all can become environmental stewards through active citizenship in our communities. Rebecca has vast experience supporting students and educators to embrace nature pedagogy and implement nature based learning environments in diverse program settings. She is devoted to sharing concepts of embedding nature in all aspects of education practices and teaching.

Angela Wright

Angela Wright has been in recreation and sport in local government since 1988 and has during this time has been advocating and planning for outdoor recreation places, spaces, programs and services. A short stint in Sport and Recreation Qld (1998-2000) projected Angela in the outdoor recreation policy area and she has been working solidly since then advancing outdoor recreation policy and strategy at the local government level. Angela worked for the last 17 years for Redland City Council in the City Spaces Group (parks, sport and recreation). She is currently semi-retired but continues to do voluntary work with Nature Play Qld in the play spaces area and other consultancy work

Narell Neville and Jennifer McCormack

Narell and Jennifer founded Birdwings Forest School in 2018, offering a range of nature immersion programs including Little Birdwings Forest Kindy, the Gold Coast's first 100% outdoor service for children aged 18 months to 5 years. As educators, artists, activists and environmentalists, Narell and Jennifer have created deeply enriching programs that are all about celebrating nature, play and our growing capabilities - at any age.

April Cunningham

April is a proud descendant from the Noonuccal people of the Quandamooka nation from North Stradbroke Island (Minjerribah) who was born in Brisbane.

April is a very keen and passionate cultural educator in sharing and educating the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures with others. She believes in keep the spirit alive of these two rich cultures; we need to educate the children of today, parents, families, educators and other fellow Australians. April intends to connect, share her knowledge, deep respect and passion with you, so you too can feel, understand, respect and embed the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander perspectives into your services. Her vision is for justice and equality in humanity.

April has worked with Exceptional Early Education professionals embedding cultural perspectives and travelled globally with an Indigenous performing company teaching children about these two rich cultures through song and dance. April has recently been embedding Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander perspectives and reaching out to services across South-East QLD on Action Research Project focused on "Standing up for a Natural Childhood".

Educators Festival

Learning Opportunities

Writing purposeful observations with Jennifer Ribarovski

Writing observations is a key component of the work of teachers and educators. Effective observations can and should inform the program and intentional teaching strategies to support each child's learning and development. This intensive one-hour workshop will focus on writing purposeful observations. Using a video of practice, we will work together on documenting an observation, and developing responsive curriculum. Here's your chance to reignite your professional skills, and practice in a supportive session designed to enhance purposeful and valuable observations of children's learning and development.

Fifty new possibilities for babies and toddlers and their families in early childhood settings.

with Caroline Fewster

This interactive workshop and pop up display will be an opportunity for educators to consider new possibilities to enable the creation of captivating environments for babies and toddlers and their families. In this time together we will explore:

- Real connections with families
- Joyful gatherings in the social world
- Spaces and places especially designed for young children Let the music begin!

Bushfires, child activists and drag queens - exploring how politics, identity, culture and values connect with our practice.

with Stephen Gallen

In this interactive and experiential workshop/discussion together we will dive deep into some rich and interesting aspects of our practice. We seem to be living in an Australia that is increasingly polarised and divided. There are fierce debates over bush fires and climate change, over religious freedoms and multiculturalism, over the role of activists and drag queens. In all of these debates the role of children comes up time and again - whether it be the suitability of being read to by drag queens, their role in protests, or the dangers and possibilities of gender politics and religion. This is something that as early childhood educators we need to engage with rather than avoid. How can we work with and not in spite of difference and conflicts of values to challenge bias and injustice? How can we create culturally inclusive spaces for in our curriculum in ways that honour and engage with the lived experiences of ourselves, our families and our children? What role do our values play? While these issues are complex and challenging we are going to be exploring grounded, practical and energising ways that we can work with these issues in our daily curriculum, including unpacking some rich practical examples and diving deeply into our professional identities. You'll come away stimulated, provoked and challenged, but also optimistic, energised and full of possibility!

Educators Festival

Learning Opportunities

Educator Wellbeing - the Phoenix Cups approach

with Tara Hill

The phoenix Cups framework will help you understand how to meet your most important life needs, and the needs of those around you, by discovering which Cups you need to keep full, how they influence behaviours, and how you can use them to build relationships in all aspects of life.

Behaviour and a Sense of Connection with Niki Buchan

Many children are behaving differently since Covid19. We will look at some of the behaviours children are displaying at this time when their needs are often not being met, behaviours that are often labelled as challenging. We will explore simple, easy ways we can help ourselves, our colleagues and the children who are struggling. A sense of belonging, of having ties with others is vital for mental and physical wellbeing. Despite the importance of such social connections, sociological research shows that this is waning at alarming rates leading to an increase in isolation and loneliness. The need to belong, to feel loved is a fundamental human need. In this session we will explore what connection is, for ourselves personally and for the children in our care, and how we can support and promote this feeling of connectedness.

Exploring the Benefits of Loose Parts

with The Outsiders (Angus, Todd and Lucy)

This presentation showcases a short documentary filmed at Camp Hill OSHC in 2018. The Doco is a follow on from an Action Research paper conducted in 2017 on the benefits of Loose Parts. The presentation is designed to provide a visual representation of how we conduct our Loose Parts environment at Camp Hill OSHC. We intend for this presentation to be more conversational and hope that the doco provides inspiration to look at your own practices and how you can improve your services daily to provide better play opportunities.

Let's reshape our conversations with Alasdair Torrie

Drawing from his experiences and knowledge in human resources and taking a coaching approach Alasdair will build your thinking during his session towards more productive conversations to:

- help shift the traditional 'telling' approach to a more inclusive 'asking' style
- explore active listening
- stretch the thinking of both parties by asking curious questions

By using the neurosciences techniques of coaching you can influence, motivate and provide insight into workplace conversations. We can shift how we converse by asking questions rather than feeling the need to tell the answers. To discover more and judge less we should ask curious questions and shift back the ownership.

Educators Festival

Learning Opportunities

Visual Documentation and Creative Reflections

with Narell & Jennifer - Birdwings

Make your journals, observations, floorbooks and visual tracking come alive with Birdwings Forest School, as we demonstrate a range of simple and effective creative techniques to present your visual documentation. Your documentation journey will become a work of art, engaging respectfully with children and the community and presenting your shared learning experiences as a rich body of research and a joyful book to treasure forever.

The Power of Table Talk

with Bec Lloyd - Unyucky

Waiting on Bec's overview..... this is last year's session..... One of the greatest lifelong gifts you can give a child is the ability to enjoy the company of other people over meals. Children who regularly eat with their families and other trusted adults are known to have better outcomes at school, better resistance to negative peer pressure, and better acceptance of a wide and healthy variety of foods.

However, meals with children aren't always easy, especially in large groups. In a service setting, children's meal times may be when educators are caught up in documentation or taking their own breaks. Even if tables are shared, the talk between children and educators may be devoted to food service rather than developmental serve and return.

Bec's short workshop develops your focus on pleasurable eating with children, and how the benefits flow not only to the children but to educators and to tired and busy families.

Making sense of Sensory Processing with Madaline Avci - Jump up for Kids

When we think of all the things we hope for our children... all we want them to learn, to experience and to become – we take for granted certain basic requirements. We assume that they will be able to listen to us, to attend for a period of time and to be calm enough or awake enough to participate in learning, leisure and other day to day experiences. Without these basic ingredients, our efforts, no matter how creative and enthusiastic will meet with limited success. The lifelong love affair with learning that we hope for will be at best, a love hate relationship.

Understanding sensory processing and its role in all of our lives, provides a way for us to help children to engage, focus and participate at this very basic level. "Making Sense of Sensory Processing" will consider some of the basic ingredients or building blocks children need in order to be calm, focussed and engaged in day to day activities, including:

What are the seven senses and their impact on healthy child development?

What is sensory processing, modulation and regulation?

How can we support our children's sensory systems throughout the day?

Strategies to encourage children to be better able to attain, maintain and change alertness levels appropriate to the task or situation.

Nature play and learning

with Angela & Rebecca - Natureplay QLD

We will explore and discuss how to embed nature play across your service curriculum. This interactive session will inspire you to use nature's loose parts that are readily available to enhance children's learning. We will share ideas and resources to support you to embed a whole service approach to nature play and outdoor learning. We will explore child led play and inquiry based play and how it aligns with nature pedagogy and explore the benefits to children's development and wellbeing.

Effective Communication

with Jennifer Ribarovski

Effective communication is vital to all things education and care, but it doesn't necessarily come simply or naturally. Given the importance placed on relationships in education and care, and the understanding that communication is key to both developing and sustaining relationships, this positions communication as integral to the work of teachers and educators. From the co-author of the book "Professional Communication for Early Childhood Educators" this session will cover:

- the principles of effective communication
- maintaining and sustaining positive relationships
- how to tackle difficult conversations.

Whether you work in early childhood or OSHC services, whatever your qualification level, and however experienced you may be, there will be something in this session for you.

Dancing on Sacred Ground

with Robbie Peters

Animal dancing / Torres Strait island basic footwork

These 30 minutes sessions will look at the basic techniques of the Australian traditional dancing of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander movements. You will be involved in expressive cultural animal dancing that you will be able to share with your children and other educators and also Torres Strait Islander basic song and dance.

Educators Festival

'Practical hands on learning that's Fun and Meaningful'

Saturday March 6th, 2021

The ECW Educator's Festival is a unique one of a kind learning and development event for Educators. The Educator's Festival is a fun social, interactive, participatory professional learning event for Educators. There is no sitting and listening to speaker after speaker resulting in lots of notes and little recollection of the content or any actions for future planning.

At the Educator's Festival you start when you want to and leave when you want to leave. Spend a few hours or make a day of it. Enjoy a relaxed day of professional learning, engaging in a range of hands on practical education and learning experiences at your leisure. You will enjoy a relaxed day connecting with a range of organisations and presenters to seek information about resources and information about quality practice, browse the trades, participate in a Presentation, enjoy a coffee or some lunch with colleagues and discuss what you have seen or heard.

Indigiscapes

17 Runnymede Rd Capalaba, 4157

Indigiscapes is positioned on 14 Hectares of native bushlands on the Redlands Coast in SE QLD. Each outdoor workshop will be nestled among the lush greenery in a uniquely private and secluded garden amidst the tranquil breezes, native birds and local wildlife.

As you meander along this tree lined path toward your secret garden you will come across a beautifully presented line of festival marquees bursting with the resources and services of ECEC Villagers available to support you in your educational role.

www.aecwpb.com

1300 232 972

admin@aecwpb.com

Homemade and Trade Fair – supports communities to make a living and brings you a range of hand made sustainable resources from various cultures and a range of countries

Bracas Timbers – Casey and his hand made timber resources are always a huge hit with Educators. Last year Educators were buying resources by the trailer load

Creative Rocks and Pebbles – Alan will be back again with his hand painted resources, numbers, letters, names and phrases that Educators can weave into their program

Teaching Time - Early childhood educational resources and traditional toys. Puppets, wooden toys, felt stories, puzzles, wall charts and much more

Family Day Care QLD - (FDC QLD) - Working in FDC and coming along to the Educators Festival - Grab some Family Day Care Queensland Specials on the day

Jump up for Kids - will have two OT's on site to answer any questions you may have about children's development. Collect a fact sheet on Healthy Development, play big ideas for children's play times and ideas to support and promote inclusion.

NAPCAN - Is the National Association for Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect, NAPCAN will provide a range of free resources about the important role of the early childhood sector in helping all children to thrive. Information available will cover:

- how to get involved with upcoming campaigns including Child Protection Week (Sept) and Children's Week (Oct)
- available brochures/fact sheets to support all members of the community to play their part in creating child safe organisations
- the importance of communication in engaging parents.

ParentLine - will provide a range of free resources that delegates can take back to their services for parents. This will include: posters, magnets, wallet cards & flyers.

Lavenders Learnotopia - A wide range of handmade, unique and creative resources and gifts for all ages.

Phoenix Support for Educators - Sandi and the team will have a resources including their famous cups and journals for you to check out.

The Coffee Guy - Enjoy some freshly brewed coffee and a range of snacks throughout the day

Birdwings - is all about childhood - living the most natural childhood we can possibly provide in this busy world. Discover how their programs take children out of busy schedules and give them time to play with friends in the forest, climb trees, make cubbies, build things and explore in wild nature, share stories, learn handcrafts, bush crafts and cook together.

Watermelon Crush Bags - Hand made bags to give colour, inspiration and individuality to your daily life. Colours and Fabric designs to suit many styles. We hope you find a special bag for yourself or as a gift for someone special Busy Fingers - Glenys, loves to create beautiful things to use every day and will bring along her range of handmade baskets, bowls, bags, wax wraps and bags that will complement your services sustainable practice commitment. You will especially appreciate the handmade wet clothing bags which will reduce your dependence on plastic bags.

Natureplay QLD - offers a range of resources and Professional Development opportunities to support you in your role of delivering innovative learning in and with nature.

This is not a final list of exhibitors

April 18th, 2020

Indigiscapes
Capalaba QLD

Educators Festival

Your community, your village - Where you Belong

Testimonials

"The overall atmosphere, enhanced by the natural and beautiful setting, seem to result in a very relaxed, by still highly engaged learning experience. There were smiles all around, a slowing down of time, which seemed to facilitate connections and reflections. Amazing work ECW Team and I look forward to being involved in 2019"

Hyahno Moser- Program Manager for Nature Play QLD

"I felt it reflected who we are as Educators"

"This event was a fantastic outward expression of the very important work that ECW do. I witnessed early childhood educators and coordinators, immersed in learning, nature and self-care."

"The vendor stalls were amazing, not the usual boring resources"

"Loved the freedom, choice, atmosphere and opportunity to connect with others"

"This was so relaxed and informal"

"It was a great opportunity to connect with colleagues and presenters"

Educators Festival

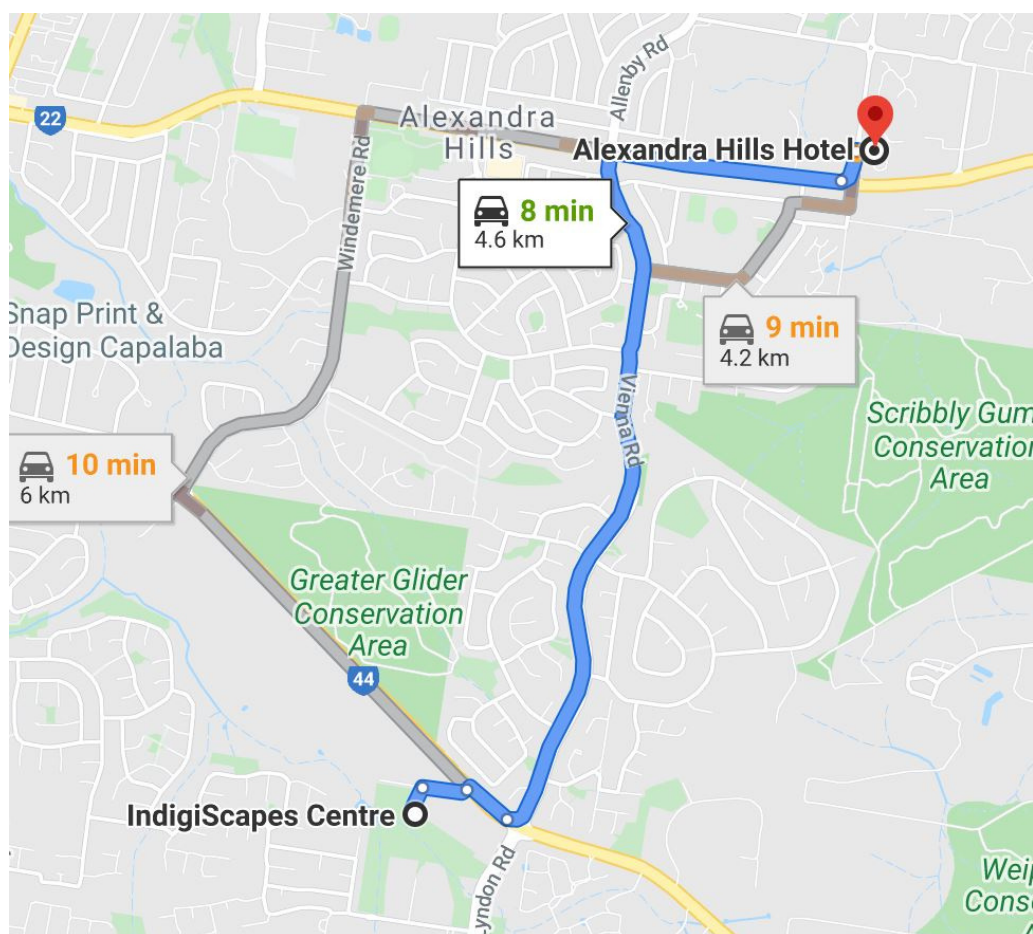

Your community, your village - Where you Belong

Accommodation

The Alex Hills Hotel

The Alexandra Hills Suites & Conference Centre is a short 8 min drive from Indigiscapes. With an impressive 4.5 star rating, you'll find the Alexandra Hills modern and with all the luxury of any inner city accommodation.

Educators Festival

*Your community, your village
- Where you Belong*

8am - Gates open

9am - Opening Ceremony

Welcome to Country - Join us in the Grandstand

9.45am - 10.45am - Session 1

Jennifer Ribarovski	Angela Wright Rebecca Burch	Stephen Gallen	Niki Buchan	Caroline Fewster	Bec Lloyd
Writing purposeful Observations	Nature play and Learning	Bushfires, child activists and drag queens - exploring how politics, identity, culture and values connect with our practice	Behaviour and a sense of connection	Fifty new possibilities for babies and toddlers and their families in early childhood settings	The power of table talk

11am - 12pm - Session 2

Jennifer Ribarovski	Angela Wright Rebecca Burch	Stephen Gallen	Niki Buchan	Caroline Fewster	Bec Lloyd
Effective Communication	Nature play and Learning	Bushfires, child activists and drag queens - exploring how politics, identity, culture and values connect with our practice.	Behaviour and a sense of connection	Fifty new possibilities for babies and toddlers and their families in early childhood settings	The power of table talk

12pm - 12.45pm - Break - Explore the trades - Enjoy a relaxed Lunch
(pack a picnic or buy lunch onsite)

1pm - 2pm - Session 3

The Outsiders	Alasdair Torrie	April and Robbie	Jennifer and Narell	Madeline Avci	Tara Hall
Exploring the benefits of Loose Parts	Let's reshape our conversations	Dancing on Sacred Ground	Visual Documentation and Creative Reflections	Making sense of sensory processing	The Phoenix cups approach

2.15pm - 3.15pm - Session 4

The Outsiders	Alasdair Torrie	April and Robbie	Jennifer and Narell	Madeline Avci	Tara Hall
Exploring the benefits of Loose Parts	Let's reshape our conversations	Dancing on Sacred Ground	Visual Documentation and Creative Reflections	Making sense of sensory processing	The Phoenix cups approach

3.30pm - 4pm - Closing Ceremony - Lucky Door prizes
(you must be present to win)

NB: The workshop timeslots are still being ifinalised - A final program will be released closer to the day

ECW
Professional Body

Educators Festival

Organisation / Service Name:

Primary Contact:

email:

Phone:

Address:

Educators Name

Email

Mobile:

Special dietary needs:

Please indicate items

Non - Member Festival Entry - $240

Join and save $$$

ECW Annual Membership - $100

Manual membership includes additional admin cost to join online and save go to <https://www.aecwpb.com/signup/>

ECW Member - Festival Entry - $120

Sub Total $ 0.00

Educators Name

Email

Mobile:

Special dietary needs:

Please indicate items

Non - Member Festival Entry - $240

Join and save $$$

ECW Annual Membership - $100

Manual membership includes additional admin cost
to join online and save go to <https://www.aecwpb.com/signup/>

ECW Member - Festival Entry - $120

Sub Total $ 0.00

ECW
Professional Body

Educators Festival

Educators Name

Email

Mobile:

Special dietary needs:

Please indicate items

Non - Member Festival Entry - $240

Join and save $$$

ECW Annual Membership - $100

Manual membership includes additional admin cost
to join online and save go to <https://www.aecwpb.com/signup/>

ECW Member - Festival Entry - $120

ECW Member

No:

Financial members get 50% off full fee

Non- Member

Non Members pay full fee

Sub Total

- Duplicate page 3 until all Educators details have been provided.
- Add all sub totals to obtain total
- Booking 5 or more Educators apply 10% discount
- Total and email registration to ECW Professional Body

Total

Apply discount

Amount Due $ $ 0.00
GST inclusive

Please sent an invoice for payment

Return completed form to admin@aecwpb.com
Ph: 1300 232 972

Tax Invoice ABN: 59612246689

Name on Card:

Visa

M/Card

Exp Date:

Card Number:

Signature:

CNN:

Direct credit payment details to:

Australian Education and Care Workforce Professional Body

BSB: 064 149

ACC: 10151502

Upon submission of this Expression of Interest and payment of the associated fee indicates acceptance of ECW event terms and conditions. Further details can be found on the ECW website.

